INTEGRITY BASIS OF SUCCESSFUL AUTO BUSINESS

The successful automobile merchant today builds his business on a policy of absolute integrity in his relations with the buyer.

This was the keynote of a talk by Charles E. Voorhis, general sales manager of The Nash Motors company, to 15 dealers from points in the territory of The Nash Sales company of Chicago, in a meeting at the factory.

The visiting dealers spent the morning in an inspection of the Nash plant and after a business meeting in the afternoon they went to Chicago where a dinner was held in the evening at the Great Northern hotel.

The Nash Motors company is keenly interested in the personnel of its dealer organization, said Mr. Voorhis. The same business principles upon which our institution is based, to become fully operative, must extend through the entire organization. And in the final analysis the dealer is the most important unit in any organization.

The consuming public comes into direct contact with the dealer; it is through him that the automobile buyer secures his impression regarding the manufacturer. If service is courteously, promptly and efficiently rendered, and if the general attitude of the dealer, his salesmen and his mechanics is such that it inspires confidence, the customer will have no misgivings as to his choice of a car. In his relations with the dealer he has an excellent index to the stability of the entire organization.

The Nash Motors company, on the whole, is very fortunate in its dealer representation; not only in the territory surrounding Chicago, but throughout the entire country. Nash distributors have been unusually careful in the awarding of Nash dealer franchises.

The result has been that at almost every point the Nash dealer is a representative business man of that community—a man whose policies are such that he reflects the spirit of the Nash factory organization which is ever vigilant to guard its standing in the automobile industry.

The Nash is distributed locally by the Memphis Nash Motors Co., and sold by Irwin-Hicks, Inc.

MOONSHINERS ROUNDED UP IN MISSISSIPPI

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 6. (Sp.)—Moonshiners at the rate of one per day are being rounded up in Mississippi by department of justice agents and revenue officers, according to reports at the office of Hon. Julian Alexander, United States district attorney.

"Never a day passes that we do not get at least one report on moonshining," says Mr. Alexander. "They come from all parts of the Southern district, and are generally persons operating stills that make only enough for their individual use. However, there have been several captures where the parties had large quantities of mash or raw whisky on hand."

At the recent federal court term in this city Judge Holmes tempered justice with mercy in dealing with the moonshiners, the customary punishment being a small fine, with a jail sentence of from 30 to 60 days. It is stated, however, that Judge Holmes will be lenient in the future, and hereafter he will make the punishment fit the crime. The attitude of a very large number of citizens toward the new prohibition law was rather strikingly revealed the other day by a delta planter, who stated to friends that he would like to hire a good moonshiner to work on his place, but thus far had not been able to find one out of employment.

YAZOO COUNTY PLANS TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL

YAZOO CITY, Miss., Dec. 6. (Sp.)—Dr. W. E. Noblin, county health officer of Yazoo county, plans a tuberculosis hospital for the care and treatment of those in this county afflicted with the disease and unable to gain entrance into the state institution because of the limited capacity and crowded condition there, or to take the treatment elsewhere.

Yazoo county now has, says Dr. Noblin, 11 tubercular patients who earnestly desire to be given treatment and training, the chance of becoming cured. These are white persons and there are also a number of negroes.

The hospital Dr. Noblin proposes for the county is one built on the plans drawn for a new state hospital at Magee. He would train the patients, both white and black, in getting well, would arrange for the caring of the patients unable to pay for the services, and could allow those who are able to pay for the treatment they are at present unable to get to pay their proportionate part of the upkeep of the county hospital.

Y. & M. V. CASE TO BE CALLED IN JANUARY

YAZOO CITY, Miss., Dec. 6. (Sp.)—R. H. V. line was received too late to be placed on the commission's agenda for December, but that a hearing would be had at the January meeting of the state commission.

In the presentation of the petition all of the towns on the Yazoo city-Jacksonwood division of the Y. & M. V. and the country section surrounding these towns co-operated in asking better service and the railway commission is asked to permit such changes in the time of the trains as to give the section more direct connection with points north at Moorhead and south at Jackson, Miss.

SCOOBA, Miss., Dec. 6. (Sp.)—A lawsuit which will cause much interest is scheduled for next Monday. The principals in it are Capt. Guy Jack and Nave Hopper and sons, all of Scooba. Jack and his family are occupying and that Jack's claim that possession is nine-tenths of the law, and refuse to get out for them.

The Hoppers, though, have brought their furniture and all household goods from over in DeKalb, 13 miles away, and installed themselves almost in the Jacks back yard. A shower of rain caused them to move their effects to a neighbor's home, who is also a relative, and they are now awaiting the result of the lawsuit.

CALF WILL BE CANNED BY STEAM FOR CLUBS

YAZOO CITY, Miss., Dec. 6. (Sp.)—Mrs. A. M. Vandever, wife of a prominent planter of this county, and Miss Lillian Lawley, Yazoo county home demonstration agent, have arranged the demonstration for the clubs of the steam pressure method of canning in the canning of a calf. It is expected that the demonstration of the method, not now much in use in the county, will result in the canning of much meat for home consumption and the buying of a number of the steam pressure canners, of which there is only one in the county now.

At the same time P. S. Carley, who has had much experience in the cutting of meats and who formerly did some work with the extension force of the local experiment station, is to demonstrate the proper method of cutting the meat.
